Board Of Trade Meeting

BEISEKER — At an executive meeting held Thursday, Sept. 13, to which all businessmen were invited, the question of a telephone exchange was widely discussed. A committee had interviewed Hon. Gordon Taylor, minister of telephones recently, and he had advised that the government would not establish an exchange here at this time.

Since there are many smaller communities which now have continuous service this was felt to be most unsatisfactory and the Board of Trade will continue to press for an exchange for Beiseker.

Our new fire equipment came in for discussion. At a near fire recently the equipment could not be used and the fire was put out with a hand extinguisher. The Board of Trade believes that there should be an active volunteer fire brigade and that the public should know where the siren is located and who to tell in case of fire.

Regular practices should be held so that the best use can be made of the new fire engine purchased by the village council recently. It is understood council is planning to erect a small building to house the fire engine. No time should be lost in doing this—fires wait for no man.

A volunteer committee headed by Mr. Ken Wright agreed to erect several road signs which had been supplied by the AMA.

LOCAL BOARD OF TRADE DISCUSSES ANTI-FLY CAMPAIGN AND SANITATION

By W. S. BACKMAN
Field Supervisor

"Cleanliness is next to Godliness and much more important." Sanitation is important to all of us. It is the responsibility of the Medical Health Officer, in town or municipality, to see that the health of the ratepayers is safeguarded. Like many other pests such as rats, gophers, grasshoppers, coyotes, warble flies, etc., house flies are dumped into the lap of the Field Supervisor.

The local Board of Trade discussed fly control this week. The town council has had it under consideration for some weeks. It has been mentioned in the Drumheller Mail. Lethbridge has had its first anti-fly campaign this summer. Fly control is the topic of a recent circular sent out by the Department of Agriculture. It deals with flies around the farm buildings and in dairy barns.

This is the time of the year when flies will be swarming into unprotected buildings and eating places. They bring with them diseases such as typhoid, infantile diarrhoea, tuberculosis, bang's, cholera, dysentery, etc. Undesirable and dangerous organisms are carried on the hairy legs and sticky feet as well as being conveyed to food in its excreta and regurgitated saliva (fly-specks).

House flies breed almost exclusively in horse, pig and poultry manure, in open privies as well as other decomposed organic matter left in back lanes and dumps. The female lays its eggs in batches of 100 to 150 in manure. One female is capable of laying up to 600 eggs during her lifetime. The eggs hatch usually within 24 hours. Under warm weather conditions the larva reaches maturity in less than a week. The pupae stage may last a week. Thus from the time the egg is laid until the emergence of the winged fly, it may take less than two weeks. Several generations of flies develop in one season and they are very abundant in early autumn.

The practice of good sanitation is the most important factor in house fly control. On the farm all manure and decaying vegetables should be scattered regularly on the fields, where it will serve a useful purpose as fertilizer. Household waste should be buried or placed in covered metal containers until removed by the garbage collector. Outdoor toilets should be reasonable tight shelters where chloride of lime is used freely. Apply residual insecticide sprays in and around all buildings where flies appear.

The councils in Drumheller and Three Hills have considered the same plan that has been carried out in Lethbridge this summer. DDT, chlordane, aldrin and methoxychlor are available for this purpose. They can be sprayed on fences, hog pens, outside of dairy barns, poultry houses, garbage cans, back lanes and outhouses. Painting screens with a five percent solution of any of the materials named will keep flies away from the house.

Do not use DDT, Chlordane or aldrin in dairy barns as they are poisons. Methoxychlor or lindane is recommended inside the dairy places. The others may contaminate milk or dairy utensils.

Spraying cattle with eight lbs. of 50 percent methoxychlor wettable powder mixed with 100 gallons of water, applying one or two quarts per animal, will take care of flies in pasture. Spraying the inside of the barn with a mixture of 10 to 15 lbs. of 25 percent lindane wettable powder in 100 gallons of water is recommended.

Spraying can be done with small hand equipment, such as a knapsack sprayer, compressed air sprayer or power equipment. Apply only enough spray on the walls so that it will not run off. Always read the labels on the containers and follow directions faithfully.

One half-day spent in spraying buildings and livestock on a farm will pay dividends in comfort and protection. The cost of the material need not be more than $5.00 to $10.00. An all fly campaign in town, city and farm is a sanitary health precaution. $400 would go a long way in keeping flies down in the city of Drumheller. A fraction of that would do towns and villages. A clean town, city or farm will be free from many of the diseases that can be controlled by applying residual insecticide sprays.

Teachers' Institute Holds Meeting

ROCKYFORD—Teachers from Rockyford attended a Teachers' Institute meeting held at Standard Sept. 13. Teachers from Rosebud, Rockyford, St. Rita's and Standard were present. Axel Larsen, Standard, the sub-divisional trustee, opened the meeting.

Munroe MacLeod, division superintendent, was in the chair. Dr. A. L. Doucette, director of the University of Alberta's Calgary branch, and Gordon Mowap, district high school inspector, attended the meeting. Dr. Doucette spoke on the new Intermediate Science course and Mr. Mowap met with the high school teachers.

Lost Child Found, No Ill Effects

ROCKYFORD — Last Friday afternoon and night was a very anxious time for Mr. and Mrs. B. X. Dyer and their friends, when Sandra, age 10, Mr. and Mrs. Dyer's daughter, became lost. She disappeared about 4:30 in the afternoon. When she could not be found a search party was called out. Approximately 150 people searched all night for her except for a short break. Constable Sargent of Strathmore, another policeman from Calgary, and a dog were leading the search.

Sandra was finally found about 7:45 Saturday morning, by a group led by A. E. Velker, about one and a half miles from her home. She seemed to have stood the exposure well and suffered no ill effects.

72nd Birthday Is Celebrated

ROCKYFORD — Mrs. Julia M. Smith was honored with a party held at her home Friday, Sept. 14 by the United Church Women's association and other friends. The occasion was Mrs. Smith's 72nd birthday. The ladies took the opportunity to also honor Mrs. Smith for her services in the Ladies' Aid.

Mrs. Smith has been an active worker since the Ladies' Aid was first organized in 1922. She was president of the group for three years. There were 30 present at the party.

SONYA ROMER, lovely Montreal miss, is seen holding trophy she won when chosen "Miss Hampton Beach" of 1951. Selected from a field of 30 finalists, she's reigning as queen of the carnival week festivities at Hampton Beach, N.H.

Kathryn Ladies Are Hostesses

KATHRYN — The Kathryn ladies were hostesses at a beautiful "Flower Tea and Bazaar" on Saturday, Sept. 8, in the school auditorium. Following the sale of bazaar articles, Mr. E. C. Bealing of Terrills Greenhouses, assisted by Mr. Slater, gave a most interesting and educational talk and display on floral care and arrangements.

The beauty of the tea tables with their bright flowers gleaming silver and china added much to the pleasant afternoon.

KATHRYN NEWS BRIEFS

The majority of the crops in the district are still very green and the occasional showers continue to prevent summer-fallowing or other field work. Some farmers reported hail during the storm Friday night.

School doors are open once more and the new school and typing rooms have been completed. Water systems have been installed in the school and the teachers' quarters. Classes were dismissed for the high school students on September 10 owing to the absence of Mr. Workman. All students received a holiday on September 11 because of the teachers' institute being conducted by Mr. MacLeod, school superintendent.

Miss Jean Angus, United Church student minister, was honored at a social gathering following the evening service on Sunday. Mrs. J. W. Anderson presented her with a gift and the good wishes of Kathryn friends on her return to Toronto.

Friends in the community extend their sincere sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. L. Workman and family on the passing of Mrs. Workman's father, Mr. Peterson.

Mr. and Mrs. Hec. MacKay and family motored to Banff on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Anderson spent last week-end visiting Mrs. Anderson's parents in Edmonton.

Demand for Price Controls

The Canadian Labor groups meeting in convention in Halifax have reiterated their stand that Price Controls should be re-imposed. The steady increase in the cost of living leads us to believe that some form of price control is necessary. But how much and what form it should take seems to be anybody's guess.

While some oppose the Liberal government, just on general principles, for not imposing price controls, we should not overlook the opinions of those who can be considered independent in the political field. No speaker for any group is, we realize, completely free of political opinion, but when national leaders of labor groups, representing all political opinions rise to speak we feel they should be heard.

This problem of inflation and high cost-of-living is too deadly a weapon to be booted about in the political arena. In his recent radio broadcast Prime Minister St. Laurent stated his views, and those of his government, in simple terms of truth and logic. Apparently he refuses to concede that credit restrictions alone can remedy the situation. He fails to see that any system of price control now is workable.

Nobody doubts the sincerity of the Government leader, and there is no doubt but that credit restrictions are necessary to curb inflation. We maintain, however, that some price controls are necessary, too. They have halted a rise in the cost of living index in the United States since spring. Credit restrictions alone in Canada have not halted the rising cost of living. Is any further argument necessary?

Beware of Quacks

This country has the most abundant and nutritious food supply, and is enjoying the best health of any nation in history.

So beware of food quacks, who tell us that our food is of poor quality and that we are suffering from malnutrition.

Such quacks assert that every disease, from cancer and heart failure to irritability and insomnia, is caused by malnutrition. Then, they insist, that we can't get well and stay well, or look younger or live longer, unless we supplement our diet with their particular kind of some outlandish food, usually unpalatable, or start dosing ourselves with some simple vitamin or mineral mixture.

A vigorous campaign of spreading the truth is needed in this country and the people ought to have the facts in order to avoid the consequences of believing all that the quacks assert about new food discoveries and new medical marvels.

Epic of the North

As this is written a new search is being conducted in the northland for Johnny Bourassa, Peace River bush pilot who is now known to have walked off alive from his crashed plane near Yellowknife.

It is possible his fate will be known by the time this is read.

Whatever has happened, Bourassa has carved out another epic of the northland. When his plane crashed, May 18, he left his now famous message that he was "walking out."

Whatever he has encountered in the wilderness, there are high hopes he will be found alive. Men of Bourassa's sturdiness are few these days. But those who know him are quite confident he has the courage and strength to conquer the wilderness.

Note and Comment

Talent, plus over-confidence, can ruin a life's work.

One who depends on the truth can do without an extraordinary memory.

Not many people are as smart as they think they are.

Ready cash, it seems, is able to outdo magicians in a disappearing act.

Inflation can be whipped if all of us buy only for cash.

See the Birdie

By JACK SCOTT

My suspicion of photographers goes clear back to the one who placed me on a shawl, stomach down, naked as an apple, and created a family joke that lasted 30 years.

Jack Scott

This was a cowardly thing to do to a child as bare and helpless as that one. I recall nothing of the event, personally, but from the pained look on that puckered puss and the pure malevolence in the eye, I know that I was not happy. A hunting acquaintance, on getting his first sight of this picture in the family album, described it perfectly. He said it looked like something that could be nicely mounted over the fireplace in his den.

This was my first painful experience with the sadistic breed known as studio photographers, but not the last.

The next occasion on which I was propped in front of the lens had a profound effect on my life. This was for the purpose of the high school annual. I was at that age when a boy begins not only to peer at himself thoughtfully in mirrors, but, behind locked doors, juggles two mirrors to get the truth on his profile. I had (and, some say, still possess) a profile like an eager wart hog and this seemed true, no matter which way the mirrors were tilted.

Yet that picture presented my face as a thing both handsome and serene. The face itself was diffused beyond recognition, but at that time my hair was rather distinctive, resembling a clump of wild prairie grass, and I was thus able to positively identify myself as this beautiful thing.

I suppose that was when I began to be insufferable.

I am convinced that all studio photographers operate alike.

The modern technique of course, is to emphasize the "naturalness" of the subject. To this end, the photographer places his victim on a hard stool, twists his neck around, pulls his chin in, commands the poor sap to smile (although he may not have smiled in 40 years), and then goes away somewhere, perhaps for a cup of tea, leaving the customer in this tortured position, the first clear flame of hatred burning inside.

At best, most of us are inclined to feel a certain strangeness before the cold, unblinking eye of the camera. On our face comes the expectant look of a man blowing up a cheap balloon.

The smile, itself, is a weak baring of the teeth, the false simper a man gives to near relatives on being trundled off to the operating room. The eyes are glassy and full of deep distrust.

The photographer himself bustles about, prodding his subject into new and more agonizing postures and occasionally disappearing under a black tent behind the camera where he gives muffled instructions, waves an arm vigorously at the sufferer and may perhaps brew another pot of tea.

Then come the lights. This is the most hideous part of all. Once bathed in this blinding glare, all semblance of poise leaves the normal human being. He is trapped like an escaped convict in a spotlight beam. His collar begins to wilt, the perspiration streams from his brow and his one thought is to escape before he is fried to a crisp. At this precise moment the photographer takes the picture.

Mercifully enough, no one ever knows what this looks like in its crude state. Soon after the customer has escaped into the outside world a crew of oil painters is set loose on the result and work long into the night, reducing large noses, putting firm chins on weaklings, hair on baldies and generally fashioning a face of distinction.

The finished masterpiece, presumably re-photographed under water, is immediately called a "remarkable likeness" by all the subject's true friends and as the years go by he may even begin to believe it himself.

School Patrols

(From Voice of Motordom)

Alberta's schools have reopened for the 1951-52 terms, following the two-month vacation. More than 160,000 children will be back at their studies.

For many parents, there will be a renewed feeling of confidence in the safety of their youngsters while crossing streets or roadways because of the safety patrols sponsored by the Alberta Motor Association.

The A.M.A. sash worn by the patrols again marks these students as "sentinels of safety," doing a dual job in safety and good citizenship that augurs well for their future.

"ALL SET"

Hunt Mystery Whale

OTTAWA—The Department of Fisheries hopes to solve the mystery of the Pacific coast whale through a newly-developed method of tagging the big mammal.

Fisheries department scientists say the tagging operation may mean that the life history of several species of Pacific whale may soon become a matter of record.

At present, very little is known of the habits or movements of these whales during the winter and spring months. They mysteriously appear off the British Columbia coast and as far south as California in the early summer, but disappear in the early autumn. Fishermen and scientists never have been able to figure out what happens to them.

Knowledge of the habits of the whales in the winter and spring would be invaluable to the expanding whale industry in British Columbia. The industry is able to operate only during the summer when whales appear in large groups, called "pods."

Scientists conducting the tagging fire a small harpoon at the whale, piercing the blubber. The harpoon is marked with codes indicating the date and position of the whale, in the same manner fish are tagged.

The harpoon remains in the whale. It is small, and scientists say it causes no injury.

"When a percentage of these tagged whales are taken later in commercial operations, a good deal more should be known about them," a department spokesman said.

He said the tagging had not yet gone beyond the experimental stage. A number of whales have been tagged this year, but no large scale program has been instituted. Such a program will be undertaken if the current experiments prove the tagging will help the department to clear up the mystery of the Pacific whale.

The Pacific whales which have mystified scientists for generations come in several varieties but can be classified into two groups: the toothed whale and the baleen whale.

Toothed whales include the sperm and bottlenose, which rarely appear in Pacific waters. The baleen type includes the blue finbacks, humpbacks, and sei.

The baleen whales stay fairly close to the surface, but the sperm whale can sound to great depths and stay submerged for as long as 45 minutes. The head of the sperm whale is one-third the length of its body.

The largest whale in the Pacific is the blue, which grows to a length of up to 100 feet.

Census Insult May Cost Eastern City $36,000 In Taxes

MONCTON, N.B. — The City of Moncton feels it has been insulted by the census-taker. And the insult may cost money.

The census bureau's preliminary report showed this New Brunswick railway centre with a population of 27,127. The local board of assessors disagrees, saying Moncton has 30,285 inhabitants.

Mayor T. Babbitt Parlee says not only does this hurt civic pride, it may also result in loss of revenue. He says the city receives the federal grant to cities in lieu of taxes on the basis of population. At a minimum payment of $12 a head, the census figure, taken as the official one by federal authorities, would mean Moncton would lose more than $36,000.

Some residents have received census bureau forms designed to fill in any gaps. Mayor Parlee says if this measure does not bring the population count up to the 30,000 mark he will seek a full-scale investigation and recount.

Kentville, N.S., also complained of bruised pride when it found the enumerators added only 301 citizens to the 1941 total of 4,229. Town Clerk A. T. MacDonald said more than 300 homes have been built in the last 10 years.

The government checked and found 500 patients in the tuberculosis sanitarium at the edge of town had been included in the 1941 census. The sanitarium's population was added to the figure for the surrounding municipal district this year.

Saskatoon May Become Producer Of Potash Supplies

UNITY, Sas. — Saskatchewan is on the verge of becoming the world's third largest producer of potash with the prospect of an unlimited market for the scarce mineral.

The discovery and quiet development of the vast potash deposit at Vera, 15 miles northwest of here, has reached the stage where mining engineers and geologists rate the bed the third largest potash field in the world, nodding only to those at Carlsbad, N.M., and Strassfurt, Germany.

The Vera field, being worked by the Western Potash Corp., is believed to be almost unlimited as a potash producer. Engineers say it extends at least 12 miles deep, but its width has not yet been measured. Further shafts will be sunk shortly to determine its exact size.

PRESENTATION of ten bushels of grain by Roy Marler, president of the Alberta Federation of Agriculture, to Lieut.-Gov. J. J. Bowlen, in His Honor's office in Edmonton, launched the fall campaign to have Alberta farmers donate grain for the Red Cross Crippled Children's hospital in Calgary. Money from the donated grain will be used entirely for support of the hospital. Standing beside Mr. Marler and Mr. Bowlen is Elmer E. Roper, M.L.A., of Edmonton, Alberta Red Cross president.

Export Of Natural Gas Only For Defence; Oil Board Will Study Further Exports

Premier E. C. Manning said this week there would be no change in the amount of natural gas to be exported to the Montana Power Company for the defence production needs of the Anaconda Copper Company.

Train Service From Jasper Improved

Train service between Jasper, and Prince Rupert, B.C., will be increased from tri-weekly to six days a week.

J. R. McMillan, western region vice-president of the Canadian National Railways, said the change will go into effect at the end of this month.

Manning commented at his weekly press conference on a Montana report which said the power company had amended an application before its own State Board to take in "unlimited exports."

"Our legislation spells right out the maximum exportable amount," said the premier, "and it is not affected at all."

He said these limited exports were not authorized by the Alberta Petroleum and Natural Gas Conservation Board, which is investigating applications for major exports, but by special action of the legislature.

No further exports will be made without approval of the Board.

The legislature approved the defence exports and presumably would have to approve any changes.

On another subject, the Premier took the opportunity to express the government's appreciation for what he termed "the splendid co-operation and assistance received from officials who are voluntarily donating their time to civil defence."

He said General F. F. Worthington, Canada's chief civil defence officer, described the Alberta set-up as one of the best in Canada during a recent visit.

Asked if there has been any consideration given to relaxation of the mixed drinking ban in Calgary and Edmonton, the Premier said "no."

Alberta Wheat Crop Of 160 Million Bushels Seen

The Alberta Wheat Pool estimated that the province's wheat crop will average 25 bushels per acre this year, or a total of 160,000,000 bushels.

The Wheat Pool said in its crop report that the 1951 Alberta oat crop is estimated at 128,000,000 bushels, and the barley crop at 108,000,000 bushels.

Only eight per cent of the wheat crop had been cut and less than one per cent threshed by September 8, according to the Pool report. On the same date in 1950 59 per cent of the wheat had been cut and 21 per cent threshed.

The Pool said that with a week of generally fine weather cutting is just resuming after being halted by heavy rains which fell in the last part of August.

With the exception of the odd point in Northern Alberta, the report said, crops remain undamaged from frost and a week to 10 days of hot weather would see most of the grain past the critical stage.

The report said that in the southeastern part of Alberta excessive moisture had caused a good deal of grain to sprout in the swath and, in some instances, even while standing.

Membership Increase In ACT Committee

An increase of 17 members in five years on the Crippled Children's Committee was the highlight of the report given by C. S. "Mickey" McNabb at the last meeting of the A.C.T.

Mr. McNabb, committee chairman, also announced the plans for this year's Search for Talent programs.

Mary Henderson, a past vice-president of the Winnipeg ACT club, inducted seven new members to the Edmonton branch.

TB DEATHS DECLINE

Alberta's death rate from tuberculosis for 1950 was 19.3 per 100,000 the lowest yet reported, it was revealed by C. Robert Dickey, General Secretary of the Alberta Tuberculosis Association. Total number of deaths was 173.

The tuberculosis control program in Alberta is second to none in the continent, according to Mr. Dickey, and is steadily improving, with expanding community surveys through the Christmas Seal mobile units, and extension in TB screening of hospital admissions.

New Oil Field Reported Found

What may be another productive field for oil-rich Alberta seems to be shaping up.

The British American and Cities Service Company reported they have brought in a new well near Clive, Alberta, and that it might be the start of a new field in the area.

The well, Clive Number One, was pouring out gas at the rate of 400,000 cubic feet per day and oil in excess of 50 barrels an hour.

The company said it holds a block of 1,000 acres in the new discovery area, about 30 miles northeast of Red Deer.

was under the chairmanship of R. H. Mairs, and the latter part under the direction of J. R. Simpson, chairman of the program committee.

ROCKYFORD — The Ladies' Auxiliary, B.E.S.L., attended a social evening given by the Gleichen Ladies' Auxiliary, Thursday, Sept. 13. Also attending were auxiliaries from Standard and Strathmore.

Those who went from Rockyford were Mrs. Lenora Geeraert, Mrs. Caroline Dahm, Mrs. J. F. Heimbecker, Mrs. Lillian Geeraert, Mrs. Clara County, Mrs. John Podboriski, Mrs. Helen Roppell, Mrs. Maggie Muenchrath, Mrs. Andy MacIsaac, Mrs. Elizabeth Keeler, Mrs. Mae Bligh, Mrs. Mary Geeraert, Mrs. O. E. Kennedy, Mrs. Annetta Cammaert, Mrs. Ruth Griffiths and Mrs. Lois Davenport.

The Gleichen ladies provided a very entertaining evening. A sing-song was held and games were played including a peanut relay race, musical arms, a spelling bee and bingo. Mrs. Oliver gave a very amusing skit.

The tables were very prettily decorated with garden flowers and a lovely lunch was served. The evening closed with thank-yous from representatives of each auxiliary and a short talk from Mrs. Leona Christensen, Standard, district commander.

daughters, Barbara, Cherry and Penny, have just returned from a three weeks vacation spent at Vancouver.

All Rockyford streets were maintained last week-end.

THRESHING MALTING BARLEY

Use great care in threshing malting barley. Skinned and broken kernels will spoil the sample for malting grades. Slow cylinder speed if necessary. Watch the grain carefully. To win a premium more care must be taken — more work must be done.

DEATH TOLL MAY REACH 30 IN COLLAPSE OF BRAZILIAN THEATRE

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil — (BUP)—A movie theatre in the inland city of Campinas collapsed Sunday killing at least 15 children among the 2,000 persons who were attending a children's matinee.

The bodies of the 15 children were removed from the wreckage soon after the accident, but it was believed the toll of dead and injured might reach 30 or more.

Rescue workers were searching the ruins for trapped survivors or bodies of addition dead, but the threat of collapsing theatre walls made salvage work difficult.

The roof collapsed about 3 p.m. Police blamed the accident on overcrowding. The dead and injured were placed on sidewalks awaiting transportation to the hospitals already filled to capacity.

Campinas is a river port in Sao Paulo State, 230 miles west of Rio De Janeiro.

Merchant, Clerk, Trapper Elected to NWT Council

YELLOWKNIFE, N.W.T.—(BUP)—A merchant and a clerk were conceded victory on the basis of unofficial returns in the North West Territories' first election and a trapper appeared destined to join them on the eight-man territorial council.

New Cement Plant For District Rumored

An unidentified Edmonton syndicate is reported completing plans to revive cement production at Marlborough, near Edson, to help ease a cement shortage in Western Canada.

It was reported that the syndicate has obtained rights to 3,300 acres of marl in the district west of Edmonton.

The syndicate was reported ready to start construction of a $3,000,000 plant at Marlborough next year.

The marl deposits, believed sufficient for at least 50 years, are located at the site of the old Marlborough cement plant that closed down in 1932.

The marl is described as an unsophisticated form of limestone that has not been compressed to rock. It can be recovered by dragline in clay form. Usually, the limestone rock used for cement production is blasted and crushed.

Americans Asked To Contact Consul

The United States Consul at Edmonton yesterday issued an urgent call to all Americans living north of Red Deer, in the Northwest Territories, the Peace River Block of British Columbia, and Yukon Territory, asking any U.S. citizens in that area who do not have valid documents for citizenship to apply to the Consulate for such documentation.

Applicants for registration who live in Edmonton and vicinity should phone 26539 and make an appointment to call at the Consulate, bringing with them evidence of their U.S. citizenship in the form of birth or naturalization certificates.

Applicants living outside Edmonton will be furnished forms for making application by mail. Such applications must be sworn to before a notary public.

Won't Broadcast Saddler-Pep Fight

NE WYORK — (BUP)—The world featherweight title fight between champion Sandy Saddler and Willie Pep at the Polo Grounds, Sept. 26, will not be broadcast or televised on home sets.

The federal parliament amended the NWT Act at the last session of parliament to give the northern frontier a measure of self-government. The move paved the way for Monday's voting at which residents, including Eskimos and Indians, voted to elect three men to the council. The other five are appointed by the government.

The voting was to name one candidate from the three districts of Mackenzie South, Mackenzie North and Mackenzie West.

A landslide victory in Mackenzie North was won by Mervyn Hardie, a Yellowknife clerk, who polled 719 votes. His opponents, broker James Wheeler and publisher John McKeekan lost their deposits. Wheeler polled 266 and McKeekan 88 with only 277 possible votes still to be counted.

In Mackenzie South, merchant John Brodie of Fort Smith won handily with a 280 vote margin over his nearest opponent, Robert Porritt of Hay River, and L. L. Lirette, of Fort Resolution, followed in that order. They also lost their deposits.

In Mackenzie West, trapper Frank Carmichael was leading with 375 votes; Mrs. Vivian Roberts, a housewife from Aklavik, inside the Arctic Circle, had 142 and another trapper, Karl Gardlund, 99, with returns still awaited from Fort Franklin and Fort Norman.

Coast Skid Road Paved With Silver Dollars Recently

VANCOUVER, B.C. — (BUP)—The streets of Vancouver's Skid Road was paved, not with gold, but with silver dollars last night.

Instead of giving a cheque to close a "little business deal," a Vancouver couple decided to pay off in shiny new silver dollars—2,000 of them.

They paid off and a good time was had by all counting it, so they decided to have a party, police said.

Officers said the business group decided the safest place to deposit the money was at the nearby police station. So they dumped the coins into a basket and jingled off to headquarters.

Carrying the basket into the station, one of them stumbled and a river of money rolled in the street.

Able assisted by two stalwart policemen armed with flashlights the celebrants recovered every last dollar. Then they took the money into the general office for safe keeping.

"You'll have to put them in paper bags," police said.

They did.

When police opened their safe they couldn't find room to put the bags.

Letter to Louisa

DEAR LOUISA—Do you think it is better for school girls to go with boys their own age or with older men?

My sister says that she allows her daughter to go with older men because they are better able to take care of her than younger boys, but I don't agree with her, do you? I think she is safer with boys of her own age.

MRS. J.E.M.

ANSWER—About the only time your daughter will be safer with older men is in case they are attacked by gunmen or under similar circumstances. Otherwise I would greatly prefer a daughter of mine to be associating with someone of her own age.

To begin with, school girls and boys fall in and out of love, as a usual thing, every few months. They go merrily on their way and in the usual course of events meet someone they truly love and settle down. They are as old mentally and emotionally as their associates and able to hold their own ideals, whatever the opinions of others may be.

But an older man, unless he is of fine character, has an advantage over a school girl. She will more readily accept this way of thinking as she feels that he knows so much more than she does.

Unfortunately, most of the older men who choose to go with school girls rather than their sisters, do so because they consider them easy marks. Occasionally, of course, there are good men who are attracted by the youthful appeal of school girls and have no evil intentions toward them. However, even that is bad in a way, for they induce these girls to get married before they are ready for marriage and before the girl's ideas of love are definitely formed. It is a pathetic sight to me to see little girls, who should be getting their education and enjoying parties and dances with other young folks, tied down to the business of baby-tending and drudgery before they know what it is all about.

By all means encourage your daughter to go with boys of her own age and make your home an inviting place for them to visit.

LOUISA.

DEAR LOUISA—My child has always made the highest mark in her grade but this year she has come second every term. I think the teacher has a spite against her and I have a good mind to go to see her and tell her what I think of her. Do you think it would do any good or be worse for my daughter?

MRS. D. W. L.

ANSWER—I think it would be bad for both you and your daughter, should you approach the teacher in your present frame of mind and with such an attitude.

Have you ever realized that it isn't the marks your child gets at school, but what she gets out of her books and retains in her mind that matters?

The trouble with you is vanity. You want your child to get the highest marks in the grade, not because it shows that she has learned a great deal, but because you can have the pleasure of boasting about it.

If you are worried because you think your child is not getting what she should out of her books, go to the teacher and have a good co-operative talk with her and try to find out how you can help, but don't make a spectacle of yourself by having a row with the teacher because some other child has probably studied a little harder than yours has.

Will Mine Oil Deposits In Northern Tar Sands

The rich oil deposits in Northern Alberta's tar sands will have to be mined, rather than drilled in the orthodox manner of oil production, Mines and Minerals Minister N. E. Tanner said in a policy statement covering development of the multi-million barrel tar sands.

Tanner outlined newly drafted exploration, leasing and royalty regulations during the government-sponsored symposium held this week at the University of Alberta.

Over 100 oil experts, representing major companies on this continent attended the conference, featuring an exchange of ideas on whether economic development of the deposits, located along the Athabasca River, would be feasible.

The sands cover some 10,000 square miles and contain a minimum of 1,000,000,000 barrels of oil, according to published estimates.

Tanner said "Our policy has been adopted to encourage immediate private development to meet the ever-increasing demand for petroleum products and offset

MARSHALL STEPS DOWN

WASHINGTON — (BUP)

—General George C. Marshall has resigned as American secretary of defence, just one year to the day after he was nominated for that post by President Truman. He will be succeeded by Deputy Secretary Robert Lovett. Marshall said he was quitting with "deep regret." However, he revealed that when he took the post of Defence Secretary until last June 30, he had agreed to keep it only the effect of the uncertainty of supply elsewhere in the world."

Key points of Tanner's policy statement were:

The government will introduce a $25 licence for the right to carry out sub-surface geological exploration. A $1,000 deposit will also be demanded by the government to guarantee proper exploration.

When a firm selects what area it seeks to develop, it will be required to take out a prospecting permit covering not more than 50,000 acres. The permit will cost $250 with a rental of five cents per acre for the first year, plus a $50,000 deposit to guarantee satisfactory exploration once again.

MORE THAN 400 RCAF cadets, representing 14 universities across Canada, received diplomas recently from Air Vice-Marshal C. R. Slemmon at Royal Military College, Kingston, Ont. Course included political as well as military studies. Cadet F. C. Kinrade of Kimberly, B.C., is seen with wife Jean and son, Jimmy, after ceremony.

Wild Oil Well Here Tamed By Workers In Gas Masks

A wild well in the Acheson oil field, seven miles from Edmonton, was tamed Tuesday, and the danger of "another Atlantic No. 3" passed.

"There isn't a leak anywhere," said a spokesman for California Standard. "It looks like we've got it sealed off for good."

Drilling was expected to continue at the site within a week. Workers will first clean up the rig and surrounding country side, and "restore circulation in the well."

The Acheson rogue blew wild Sunday when it "lost circulation" as specially-treated mud poured down the hole during drilling dropped through the casing when the well penetrated an open, porous zone. First gas, then gas and oil, shot skyward through the open hole, taking four lengths of pipe with it.

The well's circulation will be restored by again pouring mud down the hole. The valve below the preventer was damaged when the well went wild.

Officials estimated 10,000 barrels of oil spewed from the well during the two days it was wild. Oil that shot skyward left miniature lakes and a black blanket covering the surrounding barley field and trees within a radius of half a mile. Efforts will be made to recover as much oil as possible, mostly for fear of it catching fire later.

Well-tamers, wearing asbestos suits and gas masks, walked slowly in a crouch to the base of California Standard 11-11, which spewed oil and gas 200 feet into the air for 43 hours.

They repaired a valve on the casing immediately below the blow-out preventer, and the well

Missed the Menu

A missionary, captured by cannibals, was just going to be put into the cooking-pot when he was offered one last chance by the chief of the tribe.

"If you can show me something I've never seen before, I'll set you free."

The missionary took from his pocket a cigarette-lighter and flicked the wheel. A flame instantly appeared from the wick. The chief was astounded and exclaimed: "You can go free. That's the first one of those things I've ever seen that lights the first time."

Why?

"The duties of a soldier" was the title of the lecture given by an officer to his men. With a view to learning how far they had grasped the essential facts, he turned to one man and said: "Now, why should a soldier be ready to die for his country?"

The warrior ruminated for a moment, then smiled engagingly: "Yes, sir," he said pleasantly. "You're quite right. Why should he?"

CERTAINLY ... Sir!

Championship Grain

By W. S. BACKMAN
Field Supervisor

Junior Grain Club members of this district have won distinction for themselves, their club and district at provincial, national and international grain shows. One of their number is now World Wheat King. Many others proudly display cups and shields for honors won.

Every Junior Grain Club member has the same opportunity to win distinction as a grower of championship wheat. The results of their work during the past summer indicate their ability. Their plots of clean grain are an inspiration to senior growers to do likewise.

Clean seed, as it is produced in Junior Grain Club plots, is the kind of seed needed to produce the main crop. Every farm should have a similar seed plot, where only the best seed is grown. It should be kept as clean as the best plots were kept this summer. All other grain and off type heads should be removed, so that the crop will be true to type and variety. The product of seed from seed grain plots will improve the grain trade.

The Championship Prize List, published for the fall fairs, lists many awards that will be won by keen growers. Many have already made their plans to handle their grain so that it will be the championship or at least reserve championship. The best samples will go forward for provincial honors and national honors at the Royal Winter Fair at Toronto. It is quite possible that a Junior Grain Club member will again bring to this district the World Wheat Crown.

PROTECT YOUR CROP INVESTMENT BY WINDROWING THE McCORMICK-DEERING WAY

To prevent any damage to your grain crop from weather, insects, weeds or moisture, windrowing before threshing is certainly a step forward in farming practices—especially when done the McCormick-Deering way!

The No. 120 Windrower (12 or 15-foot size) handles the grain quickly and easily in its smooth operation. Adjusts to crops of all heights. Completely power-driven, it has the light draft that comes from use of numerous ball and roller bearings, and gears running in oil. The No. 6, in 6 and 8-foot sizes, is built for use on smaller acreages.

You'll probably agree with us that windrowing can mean a better grade of grain under many conditions...and now we'd like to point out how well a McCormick-Deering Windrower can do this job for you. Stop by next time you're in town.
